Two Page 3	"Sometimes, up in those trees, I talked Hassan into firing walnuts with his slingshot at the neighbor's one-eyed German shepherd. Hassan never wanted to, but if I asked, really asked, he wouldn't deny me. Hassan never denied me anything. And he was deadly with his slingshot."	This seems to tell a lot about Hassan's character. He's a lover not a fighter who wants to make the people around him happy. It isn't that he can't fight, as illustrated by his adeptness with the slingshot, but he chooses to not exercise his power.
